Upcoming Author Events

Master Gardeners present "Gardening Among Friends: Practical Essays".

Thursday, April 19th - 7pm at Larkspur Library

We are pleased to bring you three Marin Master Gardeners who will discuss their collaboration on the new book, "Gardening with Friends". Imagine sitting down with a group of friends who are also expert gardeners. Be prepared for tips on flowers, foliage, and garden produce, how to establish habitat gardens or low-water/low maintenance ones, and controlling weeds and other pests. Bring your questions and notebooks and join the conversation with:

Marie Narlock: Marie has studied landscape design and horticultural therapy at the University of California Berkeley Extension and Merritt College in Oakland and holds a B.S. in Journalism. She enjoys growing edibles in her Corte Madera garden.

Melissa Gebhardt: Melissa writes a garden column as well as articles for various publications. Melissa lives on a hillside in Mill Valley and after battling deer, fog, and the hillside for 5 years; she has created four small gardens on her hillside. Two are fenced in from deer and two are open to the deer. Find out how she did it!

Jane Scurich: Jane grew up in Memphis, TN where her Dad owned a large "feed and seed" store. Jane accompanied her dad to work and shared his passion for growing things with one significant difference. The first modern insecticide "DDT" came to market in the 1950's and her Dad, as others, believed it was the answer to all evils in the garden. Jane now encourages others to learn the benefits of Integrated Pest Management techniques and lower the use of pesticides in their home garden.
