Upcoming Events

Saturday, May 17th - 10 am at Larkspur City Hall The Party Continues – Bring the Kids!

Larkspur's Centennial Celebration keeps right on going with an old-fashioned family birthday party on May 17, upstairs at Larkspur's historic City Hall. The festivities begin with a visit from Walter the Giant Storyteller, who comes with "tall" tales to delight the whole family. After stories, visitors are invited to make birthday cards for Larkspur and to share some colorful birthday cupcakes. In the afternoon, the Library Board will be presenting a program on genealogical research for beginners.

Sunday, June 1st – Annual Book Sale, 10 am to 3 pm

Larkspur Library will be having its Annual Book Sale out in front of the steps of City Hall on the same Sunday as Larkspur's Flower & Food Festival. Lots of books on a variety of subjects at great prices. Proceeds support the Friends of the Library.

Author Night:

Tuesday, June 10th – 7 pm at Larkspur Library

Tuesday evening, June 10th, we have hit the jackpot with the former First Lady of Colorado, Dottie Lamm. After two terms as First Lady, during which she wrote the book: "Second Banana" about her experiences as the wife of the governor, wrote a column for the Denver Post, and fought for women's equality, she ran for the U.S. Senate on the Democratic ticket.

This extraordinary woman has a new book out: "Daddy On Board: Parenting Roles for the 21st Century." Ms. Lamm illuminates today's parenting habits, gender roles and how parenting has changed significantly since the late 1960's. You won't want to miss what promises to be a very entertaining evening.

This will be a free event.

Saturday, June 14th - 10 am at Larkspur Library Summer Reading Program Starts

The very funny ventriloquist Steve Chaney and his partner "Corny Crow" will be here to entertain kids and parents alike at 10am on Saturday, June 14. Registration for Summer Reading Program will follow!

Gardening at the Dragon's Gate:

Wednesday, June 25th - 7:00 p.m. at Larkspur Library

Green Gulch Farm Zen Center in Marin County is renowned for its pioneering role in California's food revolution, providing choice produce to farmers' markets and to San Francisco's Greens restaurant. Wendy Johnson has been meditating and gardening at Green Gulch for more than thirty years. She has distilled her lifetime of experience into a celebration of inner and outer growth, showing how the garden cultivates the gardener. Join us for an evening of practical knowledge and fascinating garden lore.

Friends of the Larkspur Library

The Friends of the Larkspur Library is a group of volunteers dedicated to supporting our wonderful library and furthering its vital role in our community.

We promote the library and support its outreach efforts through activities including:

- Special events, such as author events, poetry readings and mystery teas
- Newsletter publishing, featuring informative content from library staff, book reviews, notifications and “staff picks”
- Book sales, held quarterly to raise discretionary funds for the library
- Special library projects – assisting library staff with periodic projects that keep the library running smoothly
- Supporting special children’s programs and events, such as the kick-off of the Summer reading program

We hope to build our membership into an active organization that reflects our community’s love of our small-town library, and is able to plan and execute events and fundraisers.

If you love our library, please join us! The Friends need your energy, ideas, involvement and financial support. Whether you’re a busy mom with little time to spare or an avid reader who knows all the library staff by their first names, we welcome you!
